MUSEUM LECTURE
October 22 3:30 p.m.

The Hon. Mr. Desmond Guinness, founder of the nearly ten-year old Irish Georgian Society, will discuss "Irish Art and Architecture of the Eighteenth Century", Sunday afternoon, October 22 at 3:30 p.m. in the auditorium of The Cleveland Museum of Art.

The Society's sole job is to preserve Georgian architecture in Ireland; Mr. Guinness himself is currently lecturing about the United States to promote interest in the Irish culture of the 18th century which produced distinguished country homes and gardens. Mr. Guinness, born in London, now living in Kildare County in Ireland, is a graduate of Oxford University, editor of his Society's Quarterly Bulletin and author of Portrait of Dublin, released this year by Viking Press.
